TWO MILLION IN LOSS AT GREAT LUMBER CAMP

No Hope of Reaching Entombed Miners for Fully 2 Weeks

RESCUE CREWS NOW DRILLING NIGHT AND DAY

Crew of Thirty-Nine Hundred Level Encounters Hard Rock Barrier

SOME HOPE STILL HELD OUT

Jackson Residents Believe the Task Can Be Completed in Much Shorter Time

JACKSON, Calif., Sept. 11.—Fred Lowell, representative of the industrial union commission, thinks it will take five days to cut through the argument on the 3600-foot level and seven days to cut through on the 3900-foot level. Lowell estimates are made by Jackson residents and it will not take so long. The rescue on the 3900-foot level last night reached a hard rock barrier and today carried blasting, 157 feet separating them from the Argonaut.

A cavern in the lower levels is splendid prison gas to the lower levels and the discovery that a newly found cavern could not be used caused these pieces of depressing news. If the men caught by the explosion Aug. 27 were scattered in various parts of the mine when poisonous gas poured down the shaft it may be weeks or even months before the bodies of all are recovered, mining men agree.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 11.—The receipt of a fund of from $1,000 to $1,500 to be raised among mining men of the northwest to be offered the crew first reaching the entombed men in the Argonaut mine, it was announced by J. W. Bullock of Seattle, owner of another mine near the Argonaut.

NEW GREEK CABINET HAS BEEN SWORN IN

ATHENS, Sept. 11.—The new Greek cabinet, headed by M. Triantafyllakos, was sworn in last night, the premier taking the additional portfolios of war and navy. The ministry does not include a single member of former Premier Venizelos' party. The new policy will strictly maintain order and defend the national interests at the Turkish peace conference.

BELCHER EXTENSION BUSY AT RANDBURG

Belcher Extension has started work on a claim next to the great Kelly mine at Randburg, Calif., which has produced $5,000,000 in the last three years and has $5,000,000 worth of ore blocked out. Belcher Extension engineers figure that the company will get the extension of the Kelly mine by sinking a shaft 400 feet; they also figure that they will pick up the big gold ore body in the other mine at Randburg very shortly by crosscutting through the fault. This property is equipped with a ten-stamp mill and all necessary machinery. There are only about 1,000,000 shares of Belcher Extension stock outstanding.

KANSAS SOLON WOULD REPEAL LABOR BOARD

Introduces Bill That Would Establish a Disinterested Tribunal for Disputes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Representative Hook of Kansas, republican, today introduced a bill intended to abolish the railroad labor board and establish in its place a disinterested tribunal for the settlement of railroad disputes. Hook is a member of the committee which framed the transportation act creating the board.

The Hook bill, which would deal solely with railroads and proposes compulsory arbitration, directs fair wages with element of hazard and every other factor considered, proper working and living conditions and rat protection of seniority and other matters. It also encourages voluntary settlement of disputes without resort to the board and would give full power of inquiry and determination to the board where disagreement threatens to disturb transportation.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Harding improved during the night and physicians postponed the operation. The official bulletin says she spent a less restless night and some physicians are advising Secretary Weeks said last night was the best the patient had spent since her condition became alarming.

Business at the executive office is practically at a standstill and only routine matters are being transacted by the clerical force. The president remained away from his office and Secretary Christian remained during the morning near the president instead of going to his office.

A. Homer Black:

Your telegram. Am pleased to act on lines suggested and sincerely hope Brown will receive appointment.

CYCLE A. HELLER.

Governor Edmund D. Boyle sent messages to Senators Oddie and Pittman as follows:

Should Justice Day resign it would be most gratifying I think to the great majority of Nevadans to see Hugh Brown appointed in his place. No applicant could be a man of higher type nor one more admirably fitted in temperament, intelligence, education and integrity. Personally I feel that his appointment would confer honor both on the supreme court and on Nevada.

George S. Green, E. E. Roberts and Milton M. Ditch of Reno sent messages to Senators Oddie and Pittman as follows:

In event of resignation of Justice Day we urge appointment of Hugh Henry Brown, leader in American Bar association, native of Ohio, and adopted son of whom all Nevada is proud.

Carson City, Nevada.

A. Homer Black:

Will do all in my power. Am writing.

MANHATTAN IS BUSY DISTRICT IN MINING WAY

Construction of Fifty-Ton Mill At Manhattan Cons. Is Now Assured

It is pleasing, indeed, to note progress of mine development at Manhattan and to fully realize that the gold camp of Nye county is steadily forging to the front, with every prospect that even greater activity is to follow. Manhattan, like most other gold mining districts, has suffered its setbacks, but it would seem that the day is now at hand when the section is to be heard from in no uncertain way touching upon output of the precious metal.

The White Caps Mining company is setting a terrific pace in mine and milling activities and a force of 60 men is at present being employed and the first shipment of bullion will be made during the next few days. Everywhere in Manhattan is happy and optimistic over the turn of events and it is believed that the population of the camp will expand rapidly from this time forward.

Despite the fact that the pine tree camp went through two serious conflagrations, the people are rebuilding the town. A two-story building has been converted into a hotel for the accommodation of the White Caps employees, and the men are carried to and from their work daily. Joe Connors, who was one of the heaviest losers from the two fires, has constructed a building on Main street and is again engaged in business. Justice C. T. Lawrence has put up a building on Main street, while Nannan Bros. are conducting their store in a stone structure in the rear of the site of the building that was burned.

E. O. McGrath and E. A. House of San Jose, accompanied by C. C. Deak and Mark H. Page, visited Manhattan yesterday and were shown over the White Caps mine and mill and the Manhattan Consolidated property. Mr. McGrath has entered into a contract with the last named company for the construction of a piston mill, receiving in consideration of his expenditure a large block of stock in the company. He expects to get work started on the plant in the near future, and following the beginning of construction expects to be ready to begin ore treatment within 60 days.

It is estimated that in the Manhattan Consolidated workings there are 80,000 tons of ore blocked that has an average value of $20, or a sufficient tonnage to keep a 50-ton mill in continuous operation for about three years.

BOTTLING WORKS IS STILL IN BUSINESS

The Tonopah Bottling Works is still doing business at the old stand and bottling of all kinds of soft drinks is in order. In fact, the institution was not put out of commission as a result of the fire as there was a large stock of light drinks on hand. The roof to the south half of the building will be put on within the next few days and everything about the premises will shortly be in order.

AGED MAN SUCCUMBS AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

William Perrigo aged 88 years, died at the county hospital late Saturday afternoon, following a long illness. Deceased was admitted to the institution Oct. 5, 1920. He has a son living at West Detroit, Mich., and a daughter at Factoryville, Pa. He was a native of New Jersey and had been a resident of Nevada for five years.

ARGUMENTS ARE PROGRESSING IN CHICAGO TRIAL

Move to Make Injunction Permanent in Rail Case Opened By Attorney Daugherty

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Judge Wilkerson denied the motion of the strikers' attorneys that the government's bill for a temporary injunction be dismissed. "I am not prepared to decide at this time that the bill fails to set up any grounds for relief," the court said. Judge Wilkerson ordered the government to proceed with the argument for an injunction to take the place of the restraining order, which expires today. Blackburn Estlin, assistant to the solicitor general, then presented the government's exhibits, including a list of alleged unlawful acts and demands charged to the strikers. Murders and assaults were listed by miles from coast to coast.

The government mentioned twenty-five murders, tampering with documents, burning bridges and burning many locomotives. Denying the existence of such a conspiracy, the strikers' attorneys demand to vacate the injunction.

Arguments in the government's motion to make permanent the temporary injunction opened this morning before Judge H. Wilkerson. Supported by most formidable legal talents, Attorney General Daugherty set his forces in motion toward a permanent injunction in the railroad strike, reinforced by a great mass of evidence of its alleged illegality, plot of sabotage and terrorism. Attorneys against the government and denying their charges to cripple the nation's transportation was Donald R. Eichberg, attorney for D. M. Jewell.

The attorney general has no right, Eichberg declared, to use the power of government labor in doing any awful thing to limit the open shop movement. Whether the open shop or closed shop prevail is entirely outside the province of the attorney general.

WORKMEN IN TOKIO GET CUT IN WAGES

TOKIO, Sept. 11.—With the exception of Tokio, wages of workmen during June indicated a slight drop or remained practically unchanged. In Tokio dyeing and textile wages scored a perceptible advance during the period, while others remained little changed. In Kyoto, Kobe, Osaka and other leading cities dyeing, chemical and miscellaneous wages dropped slightly, others remaining the same as before.

Throughout the different cities wages of household servants increased during the month of June as did those of cement and stucco makers in Tokio, tailoring and shoe makers in Kyoto, sugar refining and transport agencies in Nagoya, bricklayers, cake brewers and textile makers in Kobe. A drop was registered in the wages of silk reeler in Tokio, spinning operator in Kyoto, millers in Yokohama, painters in Kobe and compositors in the public printing offices in Fukuoka.
